

Vitalis GMBH

Veterinary and Animal Care

Internship

For students learning:

Veterinary

Animal Care

Farming

Horse Keeping

Learning outcomes

- Participants will learn how to use terminology in the field of animal anatomy and physiology
- Participants will learn how to determine the influence of nutrients on the proper development and functioning of animal organisms
- Participants will learn how to define the conditions for maintaining and welfare of animals
- Participants will learn how to evaluate the quality of feed used in feeding livestock and accompanying animals
- Participants will learn how to apply legal provisions concerning veterinary control and supervision as well as control of infectious animal diseases
- Participants will learn how to perform auxiliary activities as part of the control and supervision of veterinary conditions for animal maintenance
- Participants will learn how to apply legal provisions regarding the identification and registration of animals and the movement of animals
- Participants will learn how to perform auxiliary activities conducted as part of animal health control and protection of their health
- Participants will learn how to perform auxiliary activities carried out as part of veterinary control and supervision, regarding compliance with the rules of identification and registration as well as the movement of animals
- Participants will learn how to perform auxiliary activities carried out as part of veterinary control and supervision regarding the safety of food of animal origin

For Further Inquiries

www.gut-wehlitz.de | info@gutwehlitz.com | (+49)(03 42 04) 77 4 00